Council Directs Planners Again To Study Parking

Last night the Carmel City Council directed the planning commission to "undertake a study and make recommendations on off-street parking standards and programs."

Councilman John Chitwood informed the council that the Carmel Business Association is working on an off-street parking plan.

"The parking problem has been under consideration for eleven years and before that I wasn't born," Councilman Chitwood observed wearily. He said that the P-1 amendment to the zoning ordinance, which sets up machinery for rezoning for parking lots use residence property adjacent to the business district, is a step forward.

He urged again that the "corner lot from the post office" be acquired, not only because it would provide additional post office parking but would also split traffic flow in that congested area.

It was not made clear whether or not the council wants the planning commission to revive its off-street parking section which was deleted from the proposed central district zoning ordinance months ago as so controversial that it would delay endlessly passage of the ordinance.

Mayor Frank Putnam, in introducing the agenda item, suggested that the council "instruct the planning commission to reopen study of the proposal deleted from the zoning ordinance."

Chitwood's motion was simply for referral and in such cases the motion is recorded as stated in the agenda item.

None of the other councilmen commented on the deleted ordinance section.

This leaves no indication of council feeling regarding the basic principle of the planning commission's proposed ordinance section, that all commercial establishments and all professional offices must have off-street parking, and that this be a retroactive provision. If parking is not provided on the premises, the user of the property, not the owner, would be required to pay an in-lieu parking fee to the city, the money to be used to purchase public parking lots.

The number of stalls per business that would be charged in lieu of parking facilities had not been established in the tables set up in the parking section of the zoning ordinance when it was dropped from the ordinance.

Chitwood's comment on the business association intended study did not include a suggestion of whether or not the planning commission should find out what the business people have in mind and take it into consideration.

This leaves the planning commission at sea, as usual.

Two other directives to the planning commission were clearer.

Francis Whitaker made a motion that the council refer to the planning commission the Carmel Citizens Committee letter to the city council requesting that the

Golf Course Competes With School District For Holt Property Site

Land for future school sites and plans for college-style final exams at the high school occupied the attention of Carmel District school trustees at a board meeting last night. Superintendent Stuart Mitchell reported that negotiations for real estate in two different areas have hit snags because of technical difficulties and minor but far-reaching changes of plan.

The board first voted to authorize certified appraisal of a 10-acre site for proposed elementary school use in the Tulareitos area on property belonging to C. A. Metz. The appraisal will open the way to straightening out an increased cost problem facing the district.

Originally the property owner had consented to paying two-thirds of the cost of an access road with the district bearing the remaining third, but Metz says he has now found his share of the cost very high in relation to the value of the property. Alternate plans have been proposed, but the district is in the situation of having budgeted only $8,000 for the road construction under the original plan.

Board members also favored making an unequivocal statement of the district's intention to purchase the land, negotiations for which have been pending for about a year.

A similar decision for an appraisal was made in the case of a 30-acre site on the Holt ranch in Carmel Valley, intended to accommodate a junior high and an elementary school. Here the school's selection of a site is in conflict with plans for a proposed golf course. More details on the two sets of negotiations will be forthcoming, the board said, after meetings of representatives of the owners and the district set for the next few weeks.

Contemplated briefly at last night's session was a district boundary change proposed by the County Board of Supervisors which would include in the Carmel

The one-man show of photographs by Steve Crouch at the Feingarten Galleries will remain on display for another two weeks. Mr. Crouch, a Carmel resident and commercial photographer, is a consistent prizewinner in the photography section of the Monterey County Fair. He has also won awards for his prints exhibited in other California shows. He is a former curator of the Carmel Art Association Galleries. The prints on exhibit at the Feingarten include a number of portraits of local persons and pictures of local scenery. All show deep perception, exceptional use of photographic techniques and fine composition.

Dick Ogden, Touring On A Scooter, Celebrates Christmas In Bethlehem

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murie Ogden, Richard Ogden reports that he spent Christmas Eve in Bethlehem and attended services in the Grotto of the Nativity, a church built at the location of Christ's birth.

Dick is traveling in the eastern Mediterranean area on a Vespa scooter. He has already visited European countries. He stays in youth hostels, meets young people from many lands, and carries out his personal conviction that if foreign youths become acquainted with one another, the world situation will be better.

He is a graduate of Carmel High School, Class of 1956. At Carmel High, Dick played on the football team. With three of his teammates, Mike Mosolf, Bob Michela and Mike McCormick he attended Santa Ana Junior College then transferred to Monterey Peninsula Junior College. He completed two years' service in the U.S. Marine Corps a year ago. Until he went abroad he was a counselor at Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach while continuing his studies at MPC. Next fall he intends to enroll at Arizona State University. Before returning home he plans to work on a kibbutz in Palestine with Israeli youth, travel through Egypt, North Africa and Spain. In each country he visits university classes taught in English, the latest being Roberts College in Istanbul; also museums and churches. He attends concerts and the theatre "for a few cents."

Everywhere, Dick reports, he meets students of many lands attending college or traveling and staying in youth hostels "on a shoestring."

His last letter home follows. "After spending a couple of days around the Mediterranean in Turkey, I moved on to Syria. My

Council Gets Beach And Forest Land In One Happy Evening

The city council performed the happy task last night of accepting a deed of beach land and of making an access concession in exchange for scenic easement of piney woods.

For two years property owners of beach land unsuitable for building sites south of the Santa Lucia street city limits have been willing to donate the beach to the city providing all participated. But nobody knew who owned the farthest south portion.

After a TV script type search for missing heirs, last night the council had in hand deed for this land. It belonged in the Lillian Grimes Estate for which the Crocker-Angelo Bank of San Francisco is trustee. The bank distributed that part of the estate to the heirs, and the heirs, Mateo Sandora and Paul Gribayedoff, have deeded it to the city. Boundaries of the property are Martin Way, Scenic Avenue and the Pacific Ocean.

Council instructed City Attorney John Morse to record the deed and get in touch with the property owners who have promised but were awaiting this transfer.

The council obtained its woods easement by agreeing to abandon Third Street at Camino Del Monte, and grant part of it as access to Havasco of Carmel Corporation. In exchange it got a scenic easement of the pine covered land adjoining the pie-shape piece, it bought for $500 several months ago. Councilman Gunnar Norberg objected. He said the city might want to open Mission north of Third 50 years hence, though City Engineer Clayton B. Neill said this would be impractical and unnecessary since the property on it had access from Third—in which case the Havasco ac-

Monday morning, 10:00 o'clock, Superior Court Judge Thomas Coakley of Mariposa County will conduct a hearing in Monterey County Courthouse, Salinas, on the petition of Monterey attorney Donald Smith for the establishment of a Superior Court on the Peninsula. If Judge Coakley upholds Smith's petition which is supported by 32 local attorneys, he can order the court established. If Judge Coakley denies the petition, State legislation will be necessary to establish a third Monterey County Superior Court situated on the Peninsula.

Yesterday State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel introduced a bill in the State Senate calling for a third Monterey County Superior Court. The location was not specified. Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee, Corral de Tierra co-authored the bill.

County Counsel William Stoffers, yesterday, filed a brief in Salinas opposing Smith's petition for a Superior Court on the Peninsula. He took this action as legal advisor to the County.

According to Mr. Stoffers, if Judge Coakley orders the third court on Monday, legal decisions may be invalid in this Carmel High's varsity, lightweight, and junior-varsity hoop squads make the long trek to Felton tomorrow night in quest of a triple-header win over the winless Cougar quintets. Unless they became too rusty during the Christmas Vacation, the Padre cagers should come home with three Cougar hides attached to their belts and further enhance their chances for unbeaten league seasons in the varsity and junior-varsity leagues. The Carmel lightweights have already dropped three league tussles this season and will be out for their initial victory. The San Lorenzo lights have also found the going a little sticky in league play and will be equally anxious to post win number one.

Junior-varsity action is slated for a 5:00 o'clock tip-off, with the lightweights answering the whistle at 7:00, and the big fellows taking over at 8:20.

While the Padre varsity tops the B-division field with a spotless 3-0 record, the small Cougar squad is on the other end with a 0-3 slate. Gilroy is the only B-division team figured to have a chance against the tall Carmel aggregation and the Mustangs won't figure in the championship picture since they have been slapped down by the CCAL Board of Managers for an infraction committed by the football team. Gilroy also sports a 3-0 record going into post-vacation play and is rated too tough for all B-league opponents except the Red & Gray Padres.

While the Cougars have been taking their lumps during early season play they have shown a fine individual performer in forward Steve Rodriguez who looks capable of repeating as an all-league performer this season. The versatile athlete, a unanimous choice for all-league quarterback during the past season, earned an all-league berth as a sophomore last season and is providing most of the scoring punch for the Cougars this year.

Tomorrow night's fracas could be a little rough on both teams since neither has been on the hardwoods for two weeks and the timing, passing, and shooting could be a little on the erratic side. Coach Dan Yurkovich figures to open the action with forwards Chris Wilkin and Scott Forbes; center John Wilkin; and guards Mike Draper and Bob Little. Sure to see plenty of action are reserves Bud Cunningham, Jim Brown, Greg Hulsey, Frank Mayo, and Doyle Clayton.

Coach Dick Lawitzke's junior-varsity is also undefeated in league play and appears to have too much altitude for the little Cougars. Pete Morse, Barry Sherman, Bob Palma, Jim Kelley, and Rick Baldwin will be in the jayvee's opening lineup with help from John Marshall, Alan Marshall, Pete Foster, Tony Belleci, Dave Harber, and Bob Wakefield.

Best game of the night could be the scrap between the two winless lightweight squads as they go all out to escape from the league cellar. Coach Harold Lippstreu's scrappy little midgets have been narrowing the gap in each outing and could taste the fruits of victory in this one. Starters for the lightweights in the 7:00 o'clock tilt are Steve Fairfield, Ted Leidig, Steve Johnson, Jose Fernandez, and Bob Wells. Slated for duty sometime during the game are Bobby Moffatt, Richard Wise, Bob Cater, Jack DeWitt, John Lefler, Gary Mumford, Page Van Loben Sels, and Pete Conway.

THROUGH THE HOOP

With tournament action in the Hancock JC hoop festival keeping his squad sharp, Coach Larry Cummings sends his ambitious cagers after further experience tonight when they host the Porterville JC quintet at the Monterey High gym in an 8:00 o'clock game. The Lobos handled Porterville rather handily in an earlier tournament at Bakersfield and figure to get the job done again. Carmel's Russ Wise has begun to get the feel of college ball and has been a vital cog in the Lobo attack. The slender jump-shot specialist has learned to meet power-with-power around the boards and has shoved his opponents around to get his share of the rebounds. This Saturday night, the Lobos journey to Berkeley to play the Cal Frosh in a prelim to the Cal-USC league game. Carmel fans will have an opportunity to get a first hand look at the Lobo quintet on January 7.

clutch broke so I pulled into a little town to try to get it fixed. Everyone thought they knew how to do it, but they just continued to make a mess of it. Finally I got the Vespa to run but it was too late to go further. I met a few Arabs who invited me to one of their houses. I had to fight off invitations, agreeing to eat one thing here, another there. It was a small town and interesting going to their homes and meeting their families. They didn't want me to leave, but the next day I pushed on to Damascus.

"I was surprised to find a modern town (at least one section) in the middle of nothing. The surrounding land is really poor, just like a desert, and all the villages are built out of mud.

"My visa was good for only 48 hours so I had to be in Jordan by 1:00 o'clock the next afternoon. About ten miles from the border I had a flat, but fortunately was near a gas station and got it fixed.

"In Amman, the capital of Jordan, I spent that night. I met quite a few Arabs and some students, whom I was to meet again in Bethlehem.

"On December 23, I left for Jerusalem, stopping at the Dead Sea and Jericho. In the latter place I met a young guide who took another American and myself through old Jericho and to the Mount of Temptation, for free.

"In Jerusalem I met the Amman friends who took me to Bethlehem for Christmas Eve. You are supposed to have a ticket to get into the midnight service at the Grotto, but I got in without one. The last three days I've spent seeing Jerusalem.

"The Arabs are very friendly; there probably hasn't been a day I haven't had a chance for a free meal. Yet they are not reasonable people. There are many political uncertainties and they do not even get along with other Arab countries. Their big prejudice, of course, is the Jews.

"I've talked to many Arabs about this situation and none has given me a satisfactory answer. Basically, I think they are nationalists and anti-semiticism is only an excuse for them to exert their power. In Syria they are Nasser fanatics, but in Jordan they don't like him. Still both countries are determined to overrun Israel.

"Americans are treated well in Jordan (they rolled out the red carpet for me at the border), but only because the United States pours money into the country. They wouldn't hesitate to take the biggest offer, no matter who made it.

"People dress about the same in Jerusalem as they did during Christ's time. They wear tunics, Arab headdresses and old shoes, if any. Donkeys are the common transportation and men with huge bundles strapped to their heads, the common transporters.

"Next stop is Israel to see about work on a kibbutz."

On his travels, Dick takes photographs which he indexes and sends home to his father, a commercial photographer, to develop. The films sent with this letter came from Athens, Mycene, Corinth, Thessaly, Istanbul, Damascus, Jericho, Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

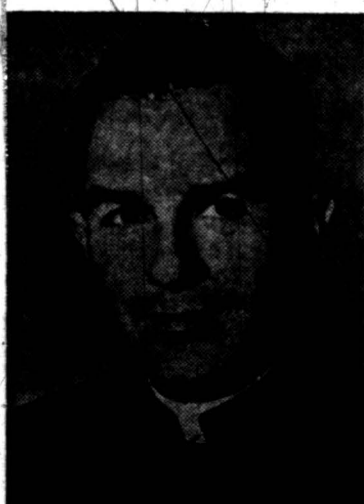

FRIDA SHARPE IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Frida Sharpe had a fainting spell on Tuesday morning while walking along Dolores Street, south of Ocean Avenue. She was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital in the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. She is reported as progressing "well" by her physician.

TO READ POETRY

On Wednesday afternoon the Carmel Foundation Town House will present Jeanne d'Orge (Mrs. Carl Cherry) reading selections from her book, The Voice in the Circle. Mrs. Cherry will also speak informally on what poetry means to her and how her book took shape.

The program begins at 3:00 o'clock. Tea will be served. All interested persons are invited.

Father Walter Anthony, C.S.P., will conduct education seminars in theology at Carmel Mission Basilica starting January 16. The inquiry classes, open to the public free of charge, will be held on Mondays and Tuesdays at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon and 8:00 o'clock in the evening during January, February and March.

Father Anthony, now residing at the rectory at Carmel Mission Basilica, is a Paulist missionary from San Francisco. He states, "The purpose of the classes is to provide an opportunity for the inquiring non-Catholic, with a friendly and objective approach to the teachings of the Roman Catholic Faith, to obtain an explanation of Catholic doctrine at an adult level."

Catholics are also invited to the classes "to synthesize their faith and acquire a new perspective on their religion." Any personal questions arising from the lectures will be answered, Father Anthony promises.

KPFA To Rebroadcast S. F. City Hall Hearing Coverage

KPFA, the Bay Area listener-subscription station, will rebroadcast its three-hour documentary coverage of last Spring's San Francisco City Hall demonstrations.

The two ninety-minute documentaries report the hearings held by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, and also report on the demonstrations in which police removed students from the city hall with fire hoses. The programs will be broadcast at 1:30 o'clock on Saturday and Sunday afternoon, January 21 and 22.

In announcing the rebroadcasts KPFA said that controversy still surrounds the events of that week, and that the programs have stimulated more requests for a repeat hearing than any other in the station's recent history.

Some of the controversy itself will be heard on KPFA when it broadcasts a recording of a debate that recently took place on the University of California campus between student leader Burton White and San Francisco newspaperman Ed Montgomery. The debate will be broadcast on Thursday evening, January 12, at 7:45 o'clock and again on January 19, at 1:00 o'clock.

A film about the hearings and demonstrations, Operation Abolition, has been widely shown in the Bay Area and has stirred controversy of its own, with students and others charging distortion. KPFA says that its documentary programs are not related to the film, since they were completed before it was known that a film would be made.

KPFA's immediate coverage of the hearings, from which the documentaries were drawn, won a silver medal from the California State Fair.

council initiate an ordinance limiting sites in the business district to 8,000 square feet in area and that buildings occupy no more than 75 per cent of the site.

Councilman Eben Whittlesey protested that when he brought the letter out of committee his intention was that the council consider site size limitation in general. "Not refer it in as restricted a form as this." Four members of the council voted favorably on this motion. Gunnar Norberg voted no after vehemently protesting that this proposal had been before the planning commission off and on for two years and had got no favorable action. He thought the council should act on it without referral to the planning commission. Whittlesey said: "I wanted this taken out of committee because I want to see action. I'm satisfied that unless there is a favorable recommendation by the planning commission, the council will not act favorably."

Norberg's proposal that in requests for hearing on rezoning residential property to business use the entire city should be set as zone of interest was referred to the planning commission without dissent.

In presenting his proposal Norberg said that the zone of interest set by the planning commission for the Neumann petition had been the minimum 300 feet and two thirds of the area had been business district property.

Building Inspector Floyd Adams pointed out that the zone of interest simply establishes the area from which the petitioner must obtain signatures of owners of 50 per cent of the property before he can have a hearing on a rezoning request. It has nothing to do with the merits of the petitioner's case, he said. These are determined by the planning commission after the public hearing. "It just gives a man an opportunity to be heard."

Norberg did not think that proposals to rezone residence property for commercial use should get to the hearing stage, hence his proposal for creating an impossible condition in the whole town zone of interest.

School District a 35-acre area containing a small subdivision south of Aguajito Road in the Jacks Peak area. Only one or two families, now in the Monterey district, would be affected by the change at present.

Carmel High School Principal Warren Edwards set members of the Board and a visiting civics class in the audience to thinking about the possibility of putting the high school on a college-style final exam schedule for the final three days of each semester ending in January and June.

He proposed two-hour exam sessions, two per day, which would set students free at noon and allow them the afternoons for preparation for the exams next morning. He felt it would help orientate high school students for college procedures, and to emphasize the importance of the finals.

At the merest suggestion of an invitation from Board President Ted Fehring, the civics scholars leaped into the discussion, applying all sorts of "improvements" to Edward's plan, from a long lunch period on exam days lasting from mid-morning to midafternoon during which studying would be "encouraged," to a plan for not starting the first exam until 10:30 o'clock.

One young woman lauded the plan as a great opportunity to discover that "if you don't study on your own, your grades will go ph-f-f-t!"

Edwards was given a go-ahead from the board to try his schedule and see what happens, possibly taking up details with the student council.

In other business the board established a uniform 20-cent per student charge from any pick-up point in the district to pay for bus rides on school vehicles to the Children's Symphony Concerts. The small fee will cover drivers' salaries and other operating costs.

Another action, initiated by Mr. Mitchell, calls for investigating the possibility of appointing a special committee to study legislative proposals on education at the state level so that the local cess would be affected.

Mayor Frank Putnam said he didn't care about such unlikely contingency. He would not miss an opportunity of "reserving forever a beautiful piece of property in natural state and preserving it from further progress."

Other business: The council approved Mayor Putnam's reappointment of Hugh Smith and Herbert Blanks to the planning commission.

Over-ruled the planning commission and granted H. S. Bucquet's request to repaint a non-conforming sign above the eaves at his San Carlos and Fifth Shop in consideration of his taking down two other non-conforming above the eaves signs at the same location.

Heard Mrs. Rose Crumrine object to the repaving of Ocean Avenue, "and making us all pay for it."

Said no to a request for a street light on the corner of Dolores and Seventh.

Approved directional arrows and a new sign at the post office parking lot and banned parking on the north side of Fifth Street between Junipero and Mission for 120 feet.

Council approved the following advancements on the salary scale, effective January 1: Arthur Plaxton, assistant city clerk, to step 5; Floyd Adams, building inspector, to step 5; William Askew, street superintendent, to step 4; Vernon Ragdale, sweeper operator, to step 5; Maurice Grimshaw, fire engine driver, to step 4; Edward Fischer, police officer, to step 4.

Also approved: Transfer of ownership of Brosche-Neilson from Audrey B. Brosche and Alex C. Neilson to Audrey B. Brosche, new name to be Brosche-Interiors.

Council adjourned until January 18, 8:00 o'clock, when they will receive reports and discuss a city self-insurance proposal.

board can take an informal stand on them. Members of the committee would be selected from retired and former school board members still living in the Carmel district.

Following the regular meeting, the board adjourned to executive session to hold a preliminary review of tenure candidates.

MRS. GRADY INJURED

Mrs. Paul Grady was taken to the Peninsula Community Hospital this morning in the Red Cross ambulance operated by the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department following an accident at Ninth Avenue and Torres Street.

Mrs. Grady, apparently, stepped on the gas pedal of her car, instead of the brake, and hit a tree. She received leg injuries.

CARMEL SJS GRADUATES

Mrs. Sara M. Leidig and Thor Rasmussen will receive bachelor of arts degrees at San Jose State College commencement exercises on February 3. Mrs. Leidig will receive her degree in general elementary education. Thor Rasmussen has completed work for his degree in psychology.

New, earlier schedule for the DEL MONTE to San Francisco

Gets you back earlier, too!

Starting Wednesday, January 4, 1961, the Del Monte will leave earlier in the morning and arrive San Francisco at 9:55 a.m.—45 minutes earlier than at present.

Returning, it will leave San Francisco at 4:50 p.m. to get you back nearly an hour and a half earlier in the evening.

You'll still have almost 7 hours in the City if you're returning the same day. The Del Monte will serve more San Francisco Peninsula cities, too.*

You'll ride, as usual, in modern, air-conditioned Chair Cars with deep-cushion foam-rubber seats. Coffee and snack service available. Modern Parlor-Lounge Car, too.

We asked our Del Monte patrons

... if an earlier schedule for the Del Monte would be more acceptable than the present one. An overwhelming majority favored this new schedule. So here it is! We have plenty of tickets and seats for all.

Frankly, we are hopeful that this earlier schedule will attract many more passengers which are needed to help eliminate the Del Monte's large annual deficit, and thus permit us to keep this train in service for you.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg

Frank Mumby in The Romance of Bookselling said, "To write a book is a task needing only pen, ink, and paper; to print a book is rather more difficult, because genius often expresses itself illegibly; to read a book is more difficult still, for one has to struggle with sleep; but to sell a book is the most difficult task of all." This quotation appears on the first page of a new reference book in our library. It is called The Reader's Adviser and it was edited by Hester Hoffman. It calls itself "a guide to the best in print" in several fields of literature and as such it should be a great value to serious readers and collectors of books.

Listed among these best in print is a bibliography, which we are receiving as printed, which it might be well to call to your attention because everyone should know of it and use it as occasion demands. Published by Yale University Press and planned to appear over a number of years, it is entitled The Bibliography of American Literature and it is being edited by Jacob Blanck. Three volumes have been published and these three take us from authors whose names begin with A through Bret Harte. It is planned to list 35,000 items from selected authors whose works were published from the Federal period up to 1930. As often happens, it might be expected that when the final volume of the present series is published, supplements will begin which will continue coverage up to the present time.

Another new reference book is an Economic Atlas of the Soviet Union. Full of maps, it shows the various cities and states, their products and their industries.

Too little, too late, is the story of Christmas books from the County Library as well as our own library, because they are now coming down to us from Salinas. Sure to be ready for Christmas 1961.

and that's a comfort, albeit very small.

House and Garden has a new Book of Decorating and Entertaining with fascinating color photographs as illustrations to give you new ideas for your house. For those who enjoy the tell-all book we have Upon My Lips a Song by Kate Smith.

Doris Leslie has a novel about Mary Anne, the wife of Disraeli, which is entitled The Prime Minister's Wife. Frank Slaughter's new one is called Epidemic. It is the story of a plague in New York City, started by an exodus of infested rats from a tramp steamer. It is exciting and horrifying.

Good westerns are hard to find, but we have one this week by George Appell called The Trumpet and the Rose. There are three mysteries and several unmentioned-but-good novels.

Happy reading in 1961, from the old book seller, meaning me.

Naomi Maryanski

Mrs. Naomi Luella Maryanski, who lived in Carmel at various times during the past 35 years, died on December 23 in Marysville. She was born 65 years ago in

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Cumiskey of Yuba City and Mrs. Ruth Obitz of Atherton; and a brother, Durward Pelton of Carmel.

Funeral services were held in Marysville followed by inurnment in Sierra View Memorial Park, Marysville.

You need a system to save, Harry!

"Years ago my bank manager at Wells Fargo American Trust asked me why I didn't pay myself regularly just like I pay everyone else. The idea made sense to me. So he set up an Automatic Savings Account and the bank moves money from my checking to my savings account every month. That money really adds up.

"System is the solution to savings. My bank was a step ahead when they introduced the first systematic savings plan in the West—and I think they're a step ahead today. That's why we all have our accounts there—it's really our family bank. They'll help you, too."

Hall. After spending the morning relaxing, he picked up his rare Guadagnini violin, dated 1753 and valued at $10,000. To his horror, the instrument emitted a buzz that sounded like it came from a cigar box. The heat and humidity had caused the old violin to come unglued. After frantic phone calls and a mad dash in a taxi, the Guadagnini was "hospitalized" and a temporary repair job completed only an hour before the concert. The violin held together, the audience was enthusiastic, and the critics warm in their praise.

The previous year, this young artist made his professional debut as soloist in the Wieniawski Concerto under Arthur Fiedler with the San Francisco Symphony. Mr. Fiedler was so impressed he invited Abel to repeat his performance with the Boston Pops Orchestra. This led to an engagement with the Boston Symphony under Pierre Monteux, including an NBC broadcast. Since then he has filled many such engagements, including our own Monterey County Symphony orchestra, and reaffirmed the judgment that he is "one of our best violinists among the younger generation."

Attendance at this concert is limited to members of the association. Members of other community associations are admitted on a space available basis.

Agnes Watson

Mrs. Agnes Watson died in a local motel on December 29. She had been under a physician's care for a cardiac condition.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Watson was preparing to move into a house that she had recently purchased here. She and her husband, the late John W. Watson, were Carmel residents from 1948-1954. They then moved to Sausalito where Mr. Watson died in 1959. For the past year, Mrs. Watson lived with her son, Frank G. Watson, in Diablo. She was born in England on July 29, 1888. Forty-one years ago she came to live in California.

Mrs. Watson was a member of the Sausalito Women's Club and the Episcopal church in the same city.

Besides her son in Diablo, she is survived by another son, Harold John Watson of Danville, Virginia; a daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Agnes Viken of San Jose; and 13 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning in Keaton Mortuary, San Rafael. Interment followed in Mount Tamalpais Cemetery.

Yvonne Romer

Miss Yvonne Romer died in a local rest home on Sunday after an extended illness. Miss Romer lived in Watsonville and San Francisco before coming to the Peninsula. She was born in Alameda on May 29, 1894.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. J. Copley Lloyd of Carmel; four nieces, Mrs. Harrison Godwin of Carmel, Mrs. James L. Casperson of Seattle, Mrs. James B. Cutler of Stockton and the Marquise de Pins of San Francisco; also a nephew, James Collins Lloyd of Seattle.

Rosary was recited Tuesday evening in Mission Mortuary. Requiem Mass was celebrated Wednesday in San Carlos Church, Monterey. Burial was in the Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Mrs. Hoey Marries Fred Godwin

Mrs. Cleoda Hoey and Fred Godwin were married on December 29 in the Chapel of Carmel Mission Basilica. Following the ceremony performed by the Reverend James Voytko, the bride and groom cut their wedding cake and were toasted in champagne at the home of the bridegroom's brother, Harrison Godwin, in Pine Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Godwin are now honeymooning in Southern California and Arizona but will return here for the Crosby Golf Tournament, then spend a month in Mexico. They will make their home at La Playa Hotel. Mr. Godwin, a former Mayor of Carmel, is the owner of La Playa. His brother, Harrison, is the owner of Pine Inn.

Mrs. Godwin has three sons, William Walter Hoey of San Francisco, Jack Hoey, a senior at the University of Oregon, and Henry Patrick Hoey, a freshman at the same university. Her mother is Mrs. Robert Cook of San Francisco.

A graduate of the University of Oregon where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, Mrs. Godwin came from Oregon to live here three years ago. She is a member of the Monterey County Symphony Guild and the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services.

Old And Young Carmel Party

A group of college and high school students arranged a party during the holidays in honor of adult residents whom they have known since childhood, and whom they consider representative of the individual character of Carmel. The affair was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, both second generation Carmelites and parents of Dio Roberts, one of the hosts. A one-man exhibit of art work by Randy Bishop, another host, was displayed in the Roberts' lower terrace.

Entertainment was provided by Miss Mary Lindsay-Oliver who played her own compositions and the accompaniment for a solo, "When Love Is Kind," sung by her student, Ora Fallis. Miss Lindsay-Oliver's guest, Mrs. Elizabeth Marnet, a concert artist from Frankfurt, Germany, sang selections from her repertoire. Cecil "Pop" Smith and Harvey Rutledge also contributed to the entertainment. Kathy Aldrich played her guitar and sang folk songs. Ora Fallis led the group in carol singing.

In addition to those already mentioned, those present were Mrs. Margaret Monk, Mrs. Jeanie Klenke, Mrs. Fairy Lee Byrd, Mrs. Mary Louise Waterbury, Mrs.

Pop Back In Penthouse

Pop Smith reports he arrived in Los Angeles in time for Christmas dinner although his plane was three hours late. His grandson, Ludwig Kaftan, Jr., spent that length of time waiting at the airport to drive Pop to the new home of his son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Ludwig Kaftan, in West Los Angeles. The spacious house, atop a hill, delighted Pop as he could look over a 25-mile area, "without smog." He also was a favored guest at a young people's party given by his grandson and granddaughter, Linda, home from Stephens College.

Back in Carmel after the holidays, Pop is busy wishing his friends a Happy New Year this week.

Noel Rogers Commissioned

Noel F. Rogers was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army on December 20 after graduating from the officer candidate course at The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia.

He is married to the former Irene Fernandez of Carmel. He and Irene have a daughter, Victoria, born on November 4. Lieutenant Rogers graduated from Walla Walla High School in Washington and attended Monterey Peninsula College before entering the Army.

Lindsay-Oliver Guest

Mrs. Elizabeth Marnet, a delightful concert soprano from Frankfurt, arrived unexpectedly at Miss Lindsay-Oliver's home on Thursday, and after going with her hostess to a Christmas party of teenagers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts, stayed overnight with Miss Lindsay-Oliver and left next morning for an engagement in Los Angeles. The same group of young people came to the Lindsay-Oliver Studio on Saturday afternoon for coffee and cookies, for whom the gifted eight-year-old Nancy Caravan played a Chopin Prelude and Rondo from a Beethoven Sonata and surprised with her mature interpretations of the music while her feet hardly yet reach the pedals.

To Attend Commonwealth Club

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Importance of understanding the spiritual meaning of the Eucharist and of truly commemorating the life of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at the semi-annual communion service at Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from 1 Corinthians (5:8): "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (241:27).

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon is this passage: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (1 Corinthians 10:16).

Wilderness Of The West

A monthly column by
C. Edward Graves

24. AN OPEN LETTER TO THE
HON. STEWART L. UDALL,
NEWLY APPOINTED SEC-RETARY OF THE INTERIOR
Dear Mr. Udall:

Congratulations on your appointment to this very important post in the new Administration! You will soon be playing a leading part in the work of conserving our natural resources, both tangible and intangible, and we only hope that you will follow the tradition set by your soon-to-be predecessor, the Hon. Fred A. Seaton, of continuous cooperation with the conservation groups of the country, to which the National Audubon Society is proud to belong.

In your department are several Bureaus or Services that are of vital interest to conservationists. The National Park Service is one. We feel that constant vigilance is necessary here to preserve their scenery and wildlife "by such means as will leave them unimpaired for the enjoyment of future generations," as the National Park Service Act of 1916 specifies. One recent illustration is the matter of keeping speed boats out of the lakes of the parks, especially two of the lower arms of Yellowstone Lake. They are incompatible with the quiet enjoyment of unimpaired scenery, and there are plenty of lakes and reservoirs outside of the parks for their activities.

The Bureau of Reclamation, also in your department, is in frequent conflict with conservation activities. The most recent instance is its failure to endorse the protection of Rainbow Bridge from the rising waters impounded behind Glen Canyon Dam, as demanded by Congress in passing the Upper Colorado Storage Act. We hope that you will not agree with them that this is a "boondoggle."

The activities of your Fish and Wildlife Service are of great concern to conservation groups. We hope that you will resist the increasing pressure of so-called sportsmen to open up more and more of the wildlife sanctuaries to shooting.

Your Bureau of Land Management controls vast areas of the public domain. We trust that you do not favor turning over any of these lands to the states, where they would be the football of local politics. We understand that there is a movement on foot in your home state to bring this about. Recent studies show that less than one-fifth of these lands are in "good to excellent" condition. Under state control, where certain stockmen have political power, there would be even greater deterioration in their condition.

Finally, we hope that you will expedite as much as is within your power the work of your Office of Saline Conversion. When converted sea water is available at financially feasible rates with atomic power to help, perhaps we can stop, before it is too late, the conversion of our wild rivers into a continuous series of dams and reservoirs which will be silted up and useless before too many years.

Very sincerely,
C. Edward Graves,
Conservation Chairman
Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society, Carmel, California.

ONE HOUR

*A grain of sand
Evolves a pearl...
One hour of life
Held fast in art
Jewels a century.*

—LAURA JANET LARSON

MORNING MIST

*The broad fantastic curtains of pale gray,
Ethereal and thick, obscure the day.
A rare perfume pervades the air,
With eerie silence everywhere.
The trees like dim, dark statues stand.
Weird beauty lies upon the land;
A thousand songbirds now sing clear sweet trills,
The echo comes back from the distant hills.
The sun smiles down with face of gleaming gold,
And draws mist curtains upon cords of gold.*

—RHEA HENDRICKS

THE DESERT SHALL BLOOM

*The arid day snuffs out, the stars hang tense,
A cooling breath blows down the sultry night,
The desert rouses from her somnolence
And dry mouths stir against her bosomed blight.
There comes a sudden tinkling over stone—
Of waters turned on fevered sands that gleam—
Here lay the wagon-wheel and sun-bleached bone,
Where oxen died to reach a silvered stream.*

*What rock, and sweat, and faith went in the quest
To tame a river for an inland sea?
That seeds might feel the life-flow in earth's breast,
And eager roots spray out from greening tree.
Thus, ever, when the dream surmounts man's fears,
The desert blooms—redeeming cindered years!*

—ANNA BLAKE MEZQUIDA

DESERTED SAILING SHIPS ON SAN FRANCISCO BAY 1849

*Wide swing the wooden masts on forty ships, crack and scrape on the ghost-ridden bay
as water from their black hulls slowly drips.*

Sailors with sting of gold upon their lips are miners now, dream ropes, taste salted spray and swing on wooden masts of forty ships.

*The wind flares in a tattered sail and rips through tackle-blocks, tarred ropes as silver-grey
The water from these black hulls slowly drips.*

Now rusting chains groan, an anchor slips, cross-trees blister and deck beams decay below the swing of wooden masts on forty ships.

*In evening flow of fog the white gull grips the rolling wheel that men held yesterday.
Wide swing the wooden masts on forty ships
as water from their black hulls slowly drips.*

Dr. Landauer's WAC Lecture On Berlin Open To Public

Dr. Carl Landauer, professor emeritus of economics at the University of California, will address the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula at 8:00 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Carmel High School auditorium. The address on Berlin, Focus of East-West Crises will be given with the co-sponsorship of the Carmel Adult School and is open to the public without charge. This is the sixth lecture in the study group series on Tension Spots and Situations.

Dr. Landauer achieved a distinguished reputation in Germany as an economist before the rise of Nazism. He came to America and joined the faculty of the University of California in 1934. He received his doctorate at the University of Heidelberg, and served as a research worker in the German Food Administration during part of the first World War. He was assistant lecturer, Institute of Commerce, Munich, 1918-1922, and lecturer and professor Berlin Institute of Commerce, 1926-33. During this period he was also managing editor of The German Economist, a weekly publication.

In 1949-1950, Dr. Landauer returned to Germany as a visiting professor at the Free University of Berlin. He has served as lecturer in international relations and economics at Mills College and the Pacific School of Religion. Dr. Landauer is the author of numerous books and articles written in both German and English on the history of socialism, economic planning, and recent German history.

A dinner honoring Dr. Landauer will precede his lecture at the Cypress West Hotel in Carmel.

Harriet Turner

Mrs. Harriet Sterling Turner, wife of Admiral Richmond Kelly Turner (USN Ret.), died on Tuesday in a local hospital following a long illness.

In 1912 Admiral and Mrs. Turner designated Carmel as their "official" home and Mrs. Turner spent much time here in years following when her husband had sea duty. Shortly after Admiral Turner's retirement in 1947, the Turners established a home on Soledad Drive in Monterey.

Mrs. Turner was born in Calaveras County on May 9, 1888. Her parents, John C. and Muriel Lyons Sterling, moved to Stockton in 1892. She attended schools in this city until 1896 when she graduated from high school. Her marriage to Admiral Turner, then an ensign, took place on August 3, 1910. They met just before Admiral Turner entered the U.S. Naval Academy in 1904.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Turner is survived by a sister, Mrs. Alison S. Pierson, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Carol A. Seghetti, in Vallejo. She also leaves relatives, members of the Lyons family, in San Joaquin County.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock in Paul Mortuary Chapel, Pacific Grove. The Right Reverend Winfred H. Ziegler, retired Episcopal Bishop of Wyoming, will officiate. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno, at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Funeral flowers will be provided by Mrs. Turner's family. Friends wishing to honor her memory are invited to contribute to the American Cancer Research Society, Monterey County Branch, Box 1028, Monterey.

Mary DeSerpa

Mrs. Mary A. DeSerpa, 95, died on Saturday in a Salinas hospital. Until last October, when she moved to Salinas following the death of her daughter, May Rose, Mrs. DeSerpa resided in Robles del Rio for 21 years. She lived with her son, Richard J. DeSerpa, after leaving the Valley.

Born in Monterey on November 18, 1865, she was the daughter of Emanuel and Henrietta Alexander. She attended Colton Hall School for five years in her childhood. Her marriage to the late John DeSerpa, a Salinas Valley rancher, took place when she was 17 years old. Prior to her husband's death in 1925, Mrs. DeSerpa lived on the ranch.

She is survived, in addition to her son, by a daughter, Mrs. Henrietta Lee of Monterey; eight grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass was celebrated in Sacred Heart Church, Salinas, on Tuesday morning. Burial was in the Garden of Memories in the same city.

Gilbert Maddux

Gilbert Black Maddux, 40, was found dead on Saturday in his home on Carmelo Street north of Seventeenth Avenue. An autopsy and toxicology tests were ordered by the County Coroner's office to determine the exact cause of his death. The tests are not completed, as yet.

Mr. Maddux was born in Washington, D. C., on May 25, 1920. He has lived here with his mother, Mrs. Eveline B. Maddux, for the past five years. His father was the late Colonel Rufus Foote Maddux whose death occurred in 1958.

Besides his mother, he is survived by two sisters, Miss Elizabeth A. Maddux of Carmel and Mrs. William R. Bailey of Middletown, Ohio.

Private funeral services were held on Tuesday in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove.

Visitor From Staten Island

Mrs. John P. Beahan of Staten Island, New York, came to spend the New Year's holiday and this week in Carmel. She decided to establish a home here while on a visit last year. "Next year," Mrs. Beahan answered when asked when she will become a permanent resident.

Tricia Beattie Back In Carmel

Tricia Beattie is home in Carmel staying with her mother, Mrs. Douglas Beattie, after over a year in Los Angeles. During her time away, Tricia was secretary for Peter Tewkesbury, producer-director of My Three Sons and director of Father Knows Best television series. In spite of her interesting job, Tricia found life in Los Angeles was not as desirable as living in Carmel. She was active in local theatre before moving south and now has a role in Look Homeward Angel, next production at the Circle Theatre.

Art On The Peninsula

As remodeling of the Carmel Art Association Galleries was not completed this week, all paintings entered by members for the January show could not be hung. Only one gallery is usable this week. The remaining paintings entered for the new show will be hung on Sunday evening by the committee in charge of the January exhibit.

Junkies, the only sculpture gallery on the Monterey Peninsula, is now open daily from 10:00 o'clock in the morning until 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Coffee is served to visitors at a coffee bar by either Ory Falls or Mary Lou Caravan, Carol Ann Morgan and Shaz. Beginning during gallery hours.

Junkies features the original work of Nong, a local sculptor, also custom replicas of his sculpture in marble scaled to modern homes. Reproductions of Roman and Greek sculpture, on a larger scale, are exhibited, too.

The Cannery Row Gallery opened a new show this week. On exhibit now is sculpture by Karen Devich, paintings by Ric Beckmeyer and ceramic tiles by Sam Harris.

Miss Devich lives in San Mateo. She has exhibited in the San Francisco, Oakland, and Richmond annual shows since 1957 and been basketball program in existence are now on sale on the Monterey Peninsula, and for $3 the purchaser will fulfill a dual purpose of a helping hand and loads of personal entertainment. . . Carmel High's basketball-foolball twins Chris and John Wilkin have been making the two sports during the hoop season by sorting out football scholarships from several of the leading universities. The rugged Paddy-gridders were entertained by UCLA's Coach Bill Barnes at his West headquarters in Pismo where Coach Barnes was coaching the West squad in the East-West Shrine game. The popular Carmel Jeds also journeyed to the Rose Bowl as guests of Coach Jim Owens and his University of Washington Huskies. A little of the Husky success rubbed off on them at the Rose Bowl as the Washington gridder turned back Minnesota with a sparkling football display. Further jaunts to Oregon, Oregon State, Berkeley, and Los Angeles are in store for the traveling Wilkin twins.

Coach Ed Larnish's Monterey High hoopers face another crucial league game tomorrow night when they entertain the dangerous North Salinas Vikings at the Monterey gym. North Salinas, a neophyte school in the OCAAL, has already established itself as an upset-minded crew and could knock the favored Toreros out of all contention for the league title. For tense action, this one could be the best one played on the Peninsula this season.

"We Regret To Lose A Man Of This Dedicated Type"

Last night City Clerk Larry Rose read a letter from Police Lieutenant Earl Wermuth giving notice of his retirement after 30 and a half years with the Carmel Police Department.

Police Commissioner John Chitwood commented: "He has done an exceptionally fine job. He is loyal, faithful. The people of the town rely on him. We were fortunate to know we had a man of his calibre on the force. People alone had a sense of security knowing he was on patrol at night. We regret to lose a man of this dedicated type."

The council voted that a resolution of appreciation be prepared. Tonight a community dinner in Earl Wermuth's honor will be held at Highlands Inn.

Wermuth's letter:

"I want you to know that as I leave the Carmel Police Department, I have a sincere feeling of appreciation and pride in the associations involved. In expressing this to you, I have in mind, also, the people who have been on our City Council, the men who were my Chiefs, and the people of Carmel since 1930.

"A wealth of experiences for recollection is mine, and as I adjust to time without reporting for duty, I'll try to avoid living too much in the past and achieve "retired" experiences to add to my thirty and a half years' collection as one of Carmel's policemen.

"My wish for each of you and all of Carmel is a happy, calm future with a minimum of radical change."

Council Can Enjoy Mellow Sunset Without Mellowing

The glories of a winter sunset, though appreciated, failed to confuse the judgment of the city council on tree four Tuesday evening when they visited the five sites on the January tree tour agenda.

They said "no" to Mrs. Fred Tilletson's request for permission to improve a second driveway at her home on San Carlos, near Vista. They explained that there is an ordinance provision limiting driveways in the residence district to one per building site.

Councilman John Chitwood made the motion to deny the street department's application for permission to remove the big black acacia on the south side of Sixth Street near Dolores. "With my tongue in my cheek, it's going to cause us a lot of trouble." The motion carried unanimously. Street Superintendent Bill Askew had made the request while the property owners were laying the new sidewalk. The sidewalk was completed by the time of the tree tour so that the tree could not be easily grubbed out and replaced by a pine.

The street department was authorized to "grade out a gutter on the east side of Casanova from the center of the block to the culvert on Thirteenth" to improve drainage.

The council continued Norman Pollard's request for a driveway variance on the west side of Junipero south of Tenth until they could confer with city attorney John Morse on whether conditions of the variance the council wished to impose would be binding on a possible future property owner.

The leaning pine in the center strip on Junipero south of Ocean and two oaks of a cluster of three on the west side of the street will have to be removed since they constitute a traffic hazard, the council decided. When questioned, Street Commissioner Francis Whitaker said he would not ask for removal of any more trees in the block, apparently intending to spare the large projecting pine near Seventh, which has been marked for removal on previous Junipero Street improvement plans.

Charles E. Myrick, chairman of the Carmel Forest Commission, went on the tour.

Sharon McClurg Engaged

During the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley D. McClurg announced the engagement of their daughter, Sharon Lee, to Howard Roloff, son of Mrs. G. Hale Roloff of San Francisco and Carmel and Howard Lewis Roloff of San Francisco. They will be married on April 8 in the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

Both Sharon and Howard are graduates of Carmel High School. Sharon was a member of the Class of 1956 and Howard, the Class of 1954. Before attending Carmel High, Sharon graduated from Carmelo School.

Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Schulte of Carmel, formerly of Carmel Valley, and Mrs. Clara McClurg of Monterey.

Sharon returned a year ago from working in Hawaii. She is now employed with National Automotive Fibers Incorporated. Howard is associated with a San Francisco stockbrokerage firm. He has one sister, Paula, living in San Francisco.

court. He also differed with Smith on definition of the distance between the County Courthouse and the Peninsula. If it is 18 miles, as declared by Smith, the third court should be ordered. Stoffers agrees, but wants the manner of measuring established.

Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee introduced a bill in the State legislature yesterday, co-authored by State Senator Fred Farr, asking that at least half of the members of the Monterey County Grand Jury be retained each year. At present, all members may be dismissed or retained at the discretion of a Monterey County Superior Court Judge.

Our Assemblyman Alan G. Pattee speaking of the estimated state budget of $1.7 billion "up slightly over the one for the current year" writes:

"This year a new wrinkle in budgeting will appear. The department of finance, instead of asking the various state agencies to submit their requests, has estimated the size of revenue available, and then divided the total among them, and advised them to cut their demands to fit."

This may be a new wrinkle in state budgeting. It is routine for housewives. It's a shock, a pleasant one, to find the state attempting anything so practical as cutting its suit to fit its cloth.

Yesterday the Southern Pacific Del Monte Special ran on a new schedule for the first time. The train now leaves Monterey in the morning at 6:45 o'clock and arrives in San Francisco at 9:55. In the evening, the Del Monte leaves San Francisco at 4:50 o'clock and arrives in Monterey at 8:00 o'clock.

Christmas is in the past but we are still wondering about some Yuletide decorations near Half Moon Bay. Visible from Highway 1 was a house with a gaudily painted Model T on the roof. In the jalopy sat a poor Santa Claus with a burlap sack on his back. Who created this tableau?

Thomson Jay Hudson, Monterey attorney and Point Lobos resident, was re-elected chairman of the Monterey County Board of Supervisors for 1961 on Tuesday. He is serving his second four-year term of office as a supervisor.

As a volunteer fireman, he responds when the Carmel Highlands Volunteer Fire Department siren sounds.

Mr. Hudson is the son of Rear Admiral L. J. Hudson and Mrs. Hudson of Point Lobos. He and his wife, Jane, have three children, Tim, Dan and Sally.

Forestry commissioners, Tuesday night, decided to explore possibilities for an ordinance to regulate private property tree removals. An existing ordinance only controls removals of city-owned trees. A preliminary report on this matter will be prepared for action at the February meeting.

Commissioners also heard a report that 95 pines and five oaks were planted along city streets in 1960. Chairman Charles Myrick reported the commission has dealt with 22 items since March 1959, and has ten matters pending. The tree information committee was asked to draft proposals for a brochure containing city regulations in respect to tree plantings, removals and maintenance.

The removal of three maples in Devendorf Plaza, which Councilman Francis Whitaker had suggested might be replaced with pines, did not meet with the approval of the forestry commission.

At the breakfast table, scrambled eggs can really hit the spot. Scrambled financial affairs, though, are something else again. That's why it is usually best to make a sharp distinction between money you invest and money you want to save—the money you want to have immediately available under all circumstances. Put your investments wherever you think they'll earn the best return. But keep your savings where you know they'll always be accessible—in the bank.
